Exploratory Questions

'The Gold Standard'
Daniel Brickman, Sawyer Tucker, Greg Wagner, and Christopher Nash

1. How have the prices of commodities like wheat, corn, and soybeans changed over time?
2. What affects the prices of these commodities?
3. Can we predict the price of these commodities in the future?
4. How does our model change as we play it against the incoming data from the hourly-updating API?
5. Which states are the top producers and consumers of these commodities?
6. Which nations are the top producers and consumers of these commodities?
7. Does the value of these commodities appear different if we change our frame of reference from USD to gold?